SPRING BURSTS

Thermometer at Kiosk Climbs to 89 Degrees, the Record for This Season.

Unheralded and without warning, spring burst upon Richmond vesterday in all the heat of first love, and it was so hot during the afternoon that fat men perspired in streams and willowy lassles felt uncomfortable. It was the first real spring day, and, because it had been delayed so long by winter's rush that upset all calculations. Signs yesterday were that light lids of straw will make their appearance to-day, and that feminine dress will drop several stories. Some of them are seven stories high, and made in such Lashion that as necessity may arise.

It was a great day for soda-water fountains and for refurbishing last year's lacy lingeric. Spring suits were brought out of cedar chests and straw hats were sent to the cleaners. Merchats were sent to the cleaners. hats were sent to the cleaners. Mer-chants hung out a dazzling array of the latest things for summer wear, and albody has sighed for since Boreas took larch home. Set directly beneath the blaze of the sum the kiosk in the Capitol Square registered the heat at 89 degrees. Dur-ing the course of the day, beginning At moon the government thermometer on Chimborazo Hill, working evertime, and violating all labor laws, registered 78 degrees, and at 3 o'clock reached the maximum of 82 degrees. The mean temperature, according to the official instruments, was 63 degrees, or the degrees above toring!

The United States Weather Bureau prophesies that to-day it will be warm and cloudy, and that thunder showers may be expected. It will be cooler at night, with breezes blowing up from the James.
